NSL Playoffs

After Sunday's North Star League contests, the play-in portion of the Region 12C bracket is set. The Saints have been placed as the 9 seed.

The Saints will open postseason play at home, this Saturday evening at 4:00pm against the Maple Plain Diamond Devils. D-C and Maple Plain split their regular season contests, each winning on the road. Outscoring the Diamond Devils 14-12 in their first two meetings, the Saints will need to try to jump out to an early lead to control the game. Perhaps most importantly, the Saints pitching staff will need to limit free passes, something that has hindered them as of late, in order to hold Maple Plain in check. Should the Saints win, they will bounce right back to play Sunday afternoon at 2:00pm against the winner of the Loretto vs Montrose-Waverly/Rockford matchup.
